FRUIT GROWERS TO ENTERTAIN

State Horticultural Association
Meets at Gettysburg Sept. 10-11
Adams County Association will take visitors through orchards.

One of the events of the year among fruit growers of Pennsylvania will be a Summer meeting of the State Horticultural Association at Gettysburg, September 10th and 11th, with the Fruit Growers Association of Adams County as hosts.

The afternoon and evening of the 10th will be devoted to a short program. Dr. J. P. Stewart and Prof. P. N. Fagan of State College will take up problems of fruit growing. Both of these men have had wide opportunity to study the methods employed by the best growers in many states.

Mr. R. G. Phillips, of Rochester, N. Y., will explain the new apple package and grade law, passed a year ago by the national government and just now going into effect. Every grower of apples should be familiar with the provisions of this law and Mr. Phillips will be glad to make clear any parts that are in doubt.

Mr. U. G. Border, of Baltimore, has devoted much study in the past two years to the questions of increasing the consumption of apples by conducting an extensive advertising campaign. He will explain just how the work is to be carried out and how it will apply to the growers as well as to the consumers of apples.

A trip by automobile among the famous Adams County orchards is planned for the 11th. Adams County has a fine crop of apples this year and the sight-seeing trip promises to be most interesting. Growers and others who are interested in the development of the apple industry are offering the use of their machines for the trip and it is hoped that conveyances can be secured in sufficient numbers to take care of the crowd. The secretary Chester J. Tyson, of Flora Dale, Pa., should be notified by all persons desiring to take the trip so that ample provisions can be made.

It is expected that the attendance at this meeting will be large. Adams County is known far and wide as one of the most important fruit growing sections of the East, to which is added the attractions of the world famous Gettysburg Battlefield.

ARRESTED WHILE IN JAIL

Milton Carl Jailed for Board Bill
Arrested on another charge.

Milton Carl, who has been incarcerated in the county jail for some time past awaiting trial for non payment of a board bill at the Elk Horn hotel, Bendersville, had another charge lodged against him Saturday for treating stock without a veterinarian certificate. The information was made by Dr. E. D. Hudson on investigation of the Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners. Dr. Hudson received a letter, Saturday, from Dr. J. W. Sallade, secretary of the board, requesting that he bring action against the man in the name of the state board, with the result that a warrant was served this morning.

It appears that Carl did a general veterinary practice in and about Bendersville while he was accumulating the board bill for which he was lodged in jail. Bad results followed the operations on several horse's mouths and attention was directed to him in this manner. He is said to have admitted practicing without a certificate and has not demanded a hearing on this charge.

AUTOMOBILE DAMAGED

Crashed into Embankment near Abbotstown on Sunday.

An automobile driven by Robert Emmert was damaged when it crashed into a bank along the Gettysburg pike near Abbotstown Sunday afternoon. It was a new Pullman car and, it is said, the driver lost control of it while speeding along the road. The occupants were not seriously injured.

MANY APPLICANTS FOR SEALER

Plenty of Candidates for Sealer of Weights and Measures. County Commissioners Consider Joining Another County in Appointment.

There may be a dearth of applicants for the borough offices but no such condition exists in connection with the borough office of Sealer of Weights and Measures. A small battalion of patriotic spirited citizens have intimated that they could be induced to accept the position provided they were approached in the proper manner. Some of them have gone so far as to actually tell the county commissioners they would.

According to the provision of the law the minimum salary shall be $1,000 a year and expenses. Two or more counties may go together in the employment of one man, thereby dividing the expense, but Adams county is situated in such manner that the commissioners think it doubtful if an arrangement of that kind can be made. Both York and Cumberland counties have sufficient population to justify their employing the entire time of one man. In any event they would probably pay him far more than the minimum salary, so that Adams county's proportion would amount to nearly what it would cost to have a man of its own. Another proposition in this connection is, there would be small chance of an Adams county man getting the position if we were to combine with either of the above counties.

Franklin county might entertain the idea of joining Adams, but in this case the question of the officer's expenses in covering his territory arises. A great part of Franklin county is mountainous country with numerous small places of business that are hard to reach. In order to secure a good man for this territory more than the minimum salary would have to be offered, and there would be likelihood of contention with the Franklin county commissioners concerning the proportionment of the traveling expenses.

No date is specified in the act itself for the measure to become effective, but it has been signed by the governor and is therefore considered a law at the present time. It will be necessary to appoint some one within a short time, in order to comply with the law. Until the present the commissioners have been considering the connections mentioned above. As soon as a decision is reached concerning the advisability of joining some other county one of the applicants will be named.

ABOUT SANGER'S SHOW

Sanger's Shows said to have "Trimmed" Martinsburg People.

According to the Evening Journal, the "graffers" with Sanger's shows which exhibited at Martinsburg a few days ago, made it interesting for a number of local men who were anxious to get rich quick. Among a number who were relieved of their earnings was one man that lost over $100. He called the police but the gamblers escaped before an arrest could be made.

LECTURE COURSE AT BIGLERVILLE

Five Entertainments Including Home Talent Production, Arranged for Coming Season. Maybe Increase in Price for Course Tickets.

Arrangements have been completed by the committee in charge, for the Biglerville Lecture Course season of 1913-14. The program contains five numbers in all, including a home talent performance to be given during the early part of February. The exact date for it has not yet been fixed.

The opening number will be a concert by "The Boston Lyrics", a highly recommended concert company, on Friday evening, October 17th. They will be followed by Dr. Charles Stelzle, who will lecture on the evening of November 12th. The next number will be another concert by the English Opera Singers, on January 26. Some time between this and the closing number, it is planned to have the local talent production. Gilbert A. Eldridge, the noted impersonator, will give the last entertainment for the season, on February 27th.

Last year the course was conducted under the auspices of the Library Association with the idea of applying the proceeds to the betterment of the library; but at the end of the year the committee found there was existing a deficit of over thirty dollars. Part of this has been secured and an effort is being made to close out the balance as soon as possible.

A Lecture Course Committee, with no connection to the Library, now has this year's entertainments in hand. It is their purpose to apply any funds that may be left after all bills are settled to the permanent establishment of a lecture course for each winter season. If a profit is made this year it will be used to secure higher priced, which is understood as better, entertainments for next season. The numbers arranged for this year are more expensive than those last winter, and for this reason there will probably be a slight increase in the price of the course tickets.

The personnel of the present committee is: O. C. Rice, E. D. Heiges, Misses Myrtle Watkins and Pearl Rice, Amos D. Sheely.

MAY MAKE TEST

Confusion Continues in some Counties over Enrollment Act.

A court test of the constitutionality of the party enrollment act, which has caused so much discussion in various counties of the state, may be undertaken before the primaries on September 16, and if it is started it is possible that the much-discussed question of the constitutionality of the non-partisan judicial and second class city municipal nominations act may be taken up at the same time. As yet there has been no organized effort to contest these two acts, but dozens of inquiries have been made at the capitol by people who appear to have considerable doubt about the legality of the two acts. Whether the non-partisan feature of election of councilmen under the Clark act in third class cities will be contested is not known.

As far as known, the party enrollment act is being enforced in most of the counties, although its operation was held back by the necessary printing. Vigorous objections to it have been received at some of the state offices from rural counties, but they are informed in reply that the law must be enforced.

PROBABLY ANOTHER BANK

According to a rumor, Frederick is to have another bank, making the eighth bank for the city, says a Frederick dispatch. The seventh was organized only a few months ago. The Frederick Trust Co. is now engaged in erecting a new building. One report has it that foreign capital will be interested, while another has it that a faction will withdraw from one of the established banks of the city. The institution, it is said, will be a state bank.

WANTED TO OPEN OFFICES HERE

Dr. N. Newman, Alias Dr. N. Bowman, Arrested in York, Tried to Secure Location in Gettysburg. Wrote to People Here.

Dr. N. Newman, alias Dr. N. Bowman, an optician who recently opened an office on the second floor of the Rosenmiller building, in York, was arrested by the police last week on charges preferred by his wife, now in Homestead, Pa., who alleges that he is traveling about the country with a woman who is not his wife, but who is said to be the wife of a wellknown resident of Homestead. Her name has not yet been revealed there. The optician was locked up at City Hall awaiting the arrival of a detective from Homestead, upon whose instruction the police made the arrest.

On June 18 Chief of Police Binder of York was asked to locate Newman and he was furnished with his picture. As no optician of that name was known to be in York it was not until Dr. "Bowman's" picture appeared in his advertisement there that he was recognized as the man who was wanted. The Detective was informed of this fact and Chief Binder received a telegram instructing him to make the arrest.

Some time before his arrest and while located at York, Newman made a number of inquiries about securing a location in Gettysburg. Among others, he addressed The Times office concerning conditions here in regard to opening an "Optical Parlor." It is understood that he did not come to town because he was unable to rent an office to his liking.

NEW RULES FOR FORESTS

State Commission to Enforce Law for Auxiliary Reserves.

At the meeting of the State Forestry Reservation Commission, September 5, rules and regulations will be adopted to put into effect the auxiliary forest reserve laws of 1913. The new laws provide that Forest Commissioner Conklin shall have charge of the administration of the reserves, subject to the approval of the commission.

Land set aside as auxiliary forest reserves shall be assessed at the rate of $1 per acre and taxed at the prevailing local rate. None of the timber grown on such lands, as long as they are under the supervision of the commission, can be touched except by the permission of the commission. When timber is cut for sale, 10 per cent. of the selling price is to go to the county to replace what the county lost through low taxation. The State will pay two cents per acre on all forest reserves for school, road and poor district purposes. About 30 land owners who desire to take advantage of the new laws have already applied to Commissioner Conklin.

CURRENCY BILL CHANGES URGED

Amendments to Be Urged on Measure By Bankers.

PLEAD FOR CENTRAL BANK

Committee Will Go to Washington and Urge Desired Changes on President
Wilson and His Advisers.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Bankers from all parts of the country at the close of a two days' conference agreed on a number of important amendments to the Owen-Glass Currency bill, now pending in congress, and appointed a committee of seven to go to Washington and endeavor to have the changes incorporated in the measure. Members of the conference expressed the belief that the administration forces in Washington will be convinced by the arguments they will present, and modify the bill, so that it will be reasonably satisfactory to the banking and business interests of the country.

The amendments were presented to the conference by a committee on resolutions, and were adopted, after a long discussion, by a unanimous vote. The committee went through the currency bill section by section, and recommended more than a score of changes.

On motion of Luther Drake, of Omaha, the following committee was named by Chairman Hepburn, of New York, to go to Washington and present the recommendations of the conference to President Wilson, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and congress:

James B. Forgan, Chicago, chairman; George W. Reynolds, Chicago; E. J. Hill, Norwalk, Conn.; R. F. Maddox, Atlanta; Sol Wexler, New Orleans; Joseph Chapman, Minneapolis; and Festus J. Wade, St. Louis. The committee will go to Washington in a few days to begin its work.

A summary of some of the important changes in the currency bill proposed by the resolutions adopted by the bankers' conference follows:

That there should be established one central federal reserve bank, under the new currency and banking plan instead of 12, and if this is found inexpedient the number should not exceed five, with as many branches as may be required in all parts of the country.

That membership in the federal reserve banks be made voluntary instead of compulsory on the part of national banks, the same as provided in the case of state banks.

That the amount of the subscription to the capital stock of the federal reserve banks be reduced from 20 to 10 per cent. of the capitalization of the bank applying for membership.

That in order to remove the control of the federal reserve banks from political influence direction of the institution be vested in a board of seven members to be appointed by the President of the United States, who shall give due regard to geographical territory of the country, and three members to be selected by the member banks. The terms of office are fixed at three, six and nine years at the beginning and nine years for all members after the first term. The salary is fixed at $10,000 a year with the allowance for necessary traveling expenses.

That three of the directors of regional banks shall be experienced in banking and live in the district.

That the directors of the regional banks be authorized to elect their own officers, who, with the federal agent designated by the federal reserve board, shall manage the institution.

That the apportionment of the federal reserve board shall not act as chairman of the board of directors of regional banks, but shall transact the duties of a government representative.

That the advisory board of the federal reserve bank be abolished, as under the plan proposed the bank members would have representation on the regular board of the reserve bank.

That the authority of the federal reserve board to compel one member bank to rediscount paper of another member bank be made optional instead of mandatory.

That the cumulative dividends allowed member banks out of the earnings on their shares in the federal reserve bank be increased from 5 to 6 per cent.

That state banks accepting membership in federal reserve banks be required to adopt the word "national" in their corporate names.

That all government monies be deposited in federal reserve banks except the 5 per cent. redemption fund of outstanding national bank notes.

That federal reserve banks be prohibited from rediscounting paper drawn for carrying of securities other than stocks and bonds.

That the country banks required reserve be reduced from 15 to 12 per cent, and that not less than 4 per cent. be kept in the bank vault, not less than 4 per cent. deposited with the federal reserve bank and the remainder with the correspondent.

That the reserve city banks' required reserve be fixed at 18 per cent. instead of 20 and 25 per cent., as by the former variable scale. Of this 6 per cent. is to remain in vault, 6 per cent. in a federal reserve bank and 6 per cent. with the correspondent in a central reserve bank.

DUCHESS CHAULNES TO WED AGAIN

Former Miss Shontz to Be French Dandy's Bride.

Paris, Aug. 25.—An early announcement of the engagement of the beautiful Duchess de Chaulnes, who was Theodore, daughter of Theodore Shontz, the American traction magnate, is expected here by her many friends.

The lucky man is Andre de Fouquieres, the French dandy, who has but lately returned from a visit to America, where he was enthusiastically received by society and where he lectured widely upon the art of dressing.

The duchess is an attractive young widow. She has one son. The duke died in Paris a few months after the marriage. Theodore Shontz, her father, is now on the continent.

De Fouquieres attracted a good deal of attention on his visit to the United States, his going having been heralded in advance. He gave interviews on vital subjects of dress.

Sittings for Miss Goldthwaite, a young American sculptor, who has been doing a bust of him, were the pretext for his daily runs to Deauville, where the duchess stayed, but, say his friends, with benevolent smiles, he apparently was not over-keen to have his features reproduced in marble, for he often entirely forgot a sitting.

Easton Pa., Aug. 23.—Mrs. Ida Von Philip filed a suit for $10,000 damages for alleged alienation of the affections of her husband, Bertil Von Philip, a mechanical engineer, who was taken into custody in a house on the outskirts of Easton several days ago in company with Miss Susan D. Bonham, a trained nurse, with whom Von Philip is alleged to have eloped from Bridgeton last December. Miss Bonham is defendant in the action.

East Stroudsburg, Pa., Aug. 25.—In one of the most daring escapes that have ever taken place in the Monroe county jail, John Nelson held on the charge of burglary, won his freedom by filing the bars on his cell window. STRIKERS IN RIOTS AT ERIE

Police and Troopers Clash In Street Battles.

MANY ARE SENT TO PRISON

Striking Iron Moulders and Their Friends Resent Governor Tener's
Action in Sending State Troopers to Erie.

Erie, Pa., Aug. 25.—Following a night of riot, unparalleled in the history of northwestern Pennsylvania, two troops of the state constabulary arrived in Erie under the command of Captain Lynn G. Adams, of Troop D, of Greensburg. A portion of Troop D, of Butler, also came in with Captain Adams' command, the Butler squad being under the command of Lieutenant Thomas F. Weisbach.

The rioting is the outcome of an attempt to break up a strike of iron moulders in several plants which has been dragging along since last December. Non-union men were brought in, and this inflamed the strikers and their sympathizers.

Rioting was renewed and a state policeman was wounded, three men are in the hospital, a score of injured have been taken to their homes. It is said that not since the trouble began some ten months ago has there been such a serious uprising as that which took place.

The streets of the city were crowded. As the workmen, non-union, filed out of plants, it is alleged they were met by union workers and foreigners. The Butler troop responded to the riot call, and their orders were ignored, and that the troopers were forced to ride into the throng. The constabulary met with resistance, and many persons were injured.

Daniel Faber, member of the Butler company, rode nearest the curb of the street. As his horse dashed into the crowd a man struck him a blow in the side with a long handle shovel. Faber gave chase and later returned with his assailant across his saddle.

Because the constabulary has been brought to Erie labor leaders assert that not a union man will be working in Erie today, and that several thousand workmen who are not organized will follow the mandate of the Central Labor Union and go out on strike.

The first trouble between constabulary and strikers took place at Twelfth and Parade streets, when Joseph Hein, said to be a striking moulder, attacked one of the troopers. Whipping out his gun, the state policeman struck Hein over the head with the butt of the weapon. The would-be fighter dropped to the ground and about that time Frank Plotrowski, local policeman, arrived on the scene. Acting under the orders of the state cop he sent Hein to police headquarters.

Rioting began when striking moulders and their friends became involved in street fights with strikebreakers, who were guarded by private detectives. The first battle occurred at the boarding house of Edward Stafer, one of the detectives. He had been active on other occasions, it was said, and when his place of abode was discovered a mob stormed the house and almost beat him to death before he was rescued by the police and taken to a hospital, where he was thought to be dying.

This spark fired the situation, and from that hour until daybreak the fighting continued in many localities. The small police force was hurried to one battleground, only to be recalled to another where the prospect for damage to life and property seemed to be even greater. Twenty-five or more arrests were made and the men were worn out.

The moulders are at present affected more than any other trade in the city, though many machinists and other craftsmen are out.

Labor leaders say they were double-crossed by Governor Tener when the constabulary was sent into Erie. According to the assertions of those in charge of the strike, they had absolute assurance from Walter Gaither, secretary to the governor, that the constabulary would not be sent into Erie. It is their claim that the state officials told them they were satisfied that Sheriff Mooney had not exhausted all the means at his command and they would not make any move until they were certain the county and city officials could not handle the strike.

A delegation of labor leaders is said to have left for Harrisburg in an effort to have the constabulary recalled from Erie. At the time the constabulary was first asked for the Central Labor Union, through its secretary, Theodore Eichhorn, wired Governor Tener that if the state police came to Erie a general strike would follow.

CHICKENS DUCKS and TURKEYS

FREE RANGE FOR CHICKENS

Ample Room May Be Provided With Assistance of Modern Wire Fencing and Few Posts.

The old method of free range need not necessarily be changed. The fowls should not, however, be allowed to run at will within the garden or in and about the farm buildings. Nothing is more aggravating or disgusting than to have the nice vegetables or beautiful flowers scratched up, and the doorsteps, the porch, the barn floor, and the farm machines fouled with poultry droppings. Separate the poultry also from the other live stock of the farm.

If the fowls are to be kept near the farm buildings, provide ample range enclosed by modern poultry wire fencing. The latter requires ordinarily but a few posts, is easily put up and has a very neat appearance when in position.

Another way of separating the fowls from the center of farm operations is to place the hen houses at a considerable distance from the farmstead, in a pasture where the fowls will have absolute range. The latter plan may entail some extra travel by the poultryman and there is the risk in some localities of depredations by foxes, hawks or other wild animals or by thieves. The young, strong farmer boy may find advantage in the second or so-called "colony plan," while the housewife will probably prefer the fenced enclosure near the farm house.

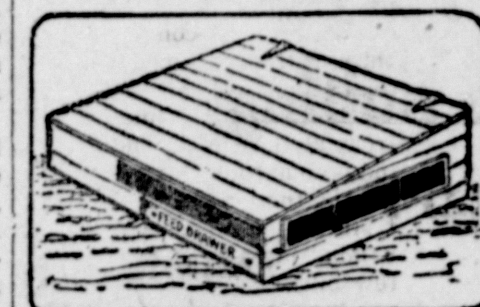

Thirdly the farmer is too careless in the way he disposes of his poultry products. He is usually content to trade his eggs at the nearest grocery store when by a little extra effort he could gain a select private trade which would pay far better. His pure bred stock of one breed of fowls in their well kept house and capacious grassy yards will be a great advertisement for his egg products and uniform clean appearance of the eggs in their attractive package will prove an additional help in making sales.

Then, too, in disposing of his fowls the farmer often sells the birds alive when by carefully dressing them on the farm and selling to his customers on orders he could secure far better prices.

FEEDING COOP FOR SQUABS

Materials Necessary Consist of Hundred Feet of Flooring and Piece of Wire Mesh.

A satisfactory coop for fattening chicks of "Leghorn squabs," as the trade calls them, is shown in the accompanying illustration. The materials necessary consist of 100 feet of flooring, two pieces of wire netting 3 1/2 by 4 feet, a piece of inch mesh wire for the front, a feed drawer made from store boxes, a pair of hinges, door transom and some roofing paint. The floor is covered with road dust.

Fattening Coop.

writes Mrs. Almo of Chaves county, N. M., in the Farmers Mail and Breeze. A dry feed mixture put up by a local feed store consists of cracked corn, milo, wheat, bran, alfalfa meal and meat meal. Milk curd is fed twice a week.

The feed drawer is filled twice weekly. I find more gain in weight by using a coop than in yards, and use less feed. I put the chicks in this coop as soon as they are old enough to take from the brooder.

Hens Need Exercise.

It is very necessary that the hens are given an opportunity to exercise. If they haven't a good place to scratch they can be forced to exercise by hanging sunflowers, heads of grain, etc., just high enough so they will have to jump to reach the food.

WEATHER FORECAST

Cool Weather Predicted also says Clear for some days.

Moderate temperatures throughout the coming week except in the far southwest and irregular local rains were forecasted to-day for the coming week by Chief Marvin, of the weather bureau. The weekly forecast says:

"The distribution of atmospheric pressure over the northern hemisphere is such as to indicate a continuance of moderate temperatures for the season the coming week in all parts of the country except the far southwest where readings will be above the normal. "The rainfall during the week will be generally local and irregularly distributed. A disturbance of moderate intensity will appear in the far west about Wednesday, move eastward attended by local showers and thunder storms and cross the middle west Thursday or Friday and the eastern states near the end of the week."

Cured by Our Reliable Skin Remedy, Saxo Salve.

COOL AND NUTRITIOUS

WELL-MADE MILK-SHAKE A DELIGHT ON A HOT DAY.

Easy to Make at Home, Provided the Necessary Utensils Are at Hand, and They Are Cheap and Easily Procured.

A food drink of real nutritive value and tempting appearance and taste is the well made milk shake. It is a lunch in itself for a warm summer's day, and is always a satisfying beverage for one who is hungry and tired.

The home made milk shake is just as good as the one made by the very best confectionery, if it is properly made. To begin with, if you would be a past master in the art of shake making, you must possess yourself of a shaker. One of nickel plate that is strong enough to stand hard shaking, made with a screw cover and a little spout through which the shake can be poured into a glass, costs about two dollars. The spout is covered with a small tip which can be unscrewed, and this is fastened to the top by a short chain which keeps it from being easily lost. Shakers for less than a dollar can also be bought, and they are quite as satisfactory for making a good milk shake.

For an egg milk shake, break an egg into the shaker, add flavoring and sweetening, half fill the shaker with rich milk and shake vigorously. In both hands, for three or four minutes. Pour it into a glass and fill it with milk. If a plain milk shake is wanted, put flavoring, sweetening and milk in the shaker and shake them together by holding one hand over the top, the other over the bottom of the shaker, and shaking vigorously from the elbows.

If vanilla or some other flavoring extract is used, sweetening, either in the form of granulated sugar or a sweet sirup made by melting sugar over the fire in just enough water to boil it in solution, must be used with it. If a flavoring sirup is used that is generally sufficiently sweet.

Chocolate sirup can be kept on hand for making milk shakes. To make it, mix a third of a cupful of cocoa with two cupfuls of granulated sugar. Gradually add a cupful of boiling water and let the mixture boil for five minutes. When it is cold add a teaspoonful of vanilla and a teaspoonful of very strong coffee. This mixture of flavors produces a delicate taste, but the coffee can be omitted and twice as much sugar added instead. About two teaspoonfuls of the sugar are needed for one glassful of milk.

If the milk shake made according to the directions already given proves too heavy, make it with two-thirds milk and one-third apollinaris water, drawn ice cold from a siphon.

Ginger Sauce.
Bruise one or two pieces of whole ginger, put them into a saucepan with three ounces of leaf sugar and a pint of water and boil for several minutes, then strain and add the liquor. Mix a little arrowroot smoothly with a little cold water, stir in the other liquor, return it all to the stewpan and stir over the fire till thickened and boiling, when it is ready for the table.

Cork Filling for Pillows.
Get from your grocer a quantity of the ground cork in which grapes are packed. With it fill pillows for the porch and hammock. They are light and comfortable and are not injured by a storm. There is no danger of their drawing dampness and becoming matted, as so many fillings do.

The corn root worm and corn root house, two of the worst pests with which the corn plant is afflicted, are far worse on farms where corn is produced after corn year after year. The way to prevent the damage is to adopt a system of crop rotation in which corn does not follow corn. These two pests are simply two curses which are visited upon farmers for violating nature's law, which demands change and variety in crop production as in a number of other realms.
